Fiscal Court Holds Busy Session

The Calloway County Fiscal Court convened this morning for a busy session that is expected to last throughout the day.

Paschall Oil Company was the successful bidder on gasoline and oil for the county. The company bid 14.4 cents per gallon on the 95 octane or better gasoline, 12.1 per gallon on fuel oil No. 2, plus all applicable taxes with a minimum delivery of 3,000 combined gallons.

The company will furnish at no extra charge two each electric computer gasoline pumps, one each 3/4 h. p. 30 gallon air compressor, and one each 125 gallon tank and hand pump for pickup truck service to equipment.

In addition the successful bidder has agreed to supply f. o. b. Fulton, one used two-compartment 8,000 gallon tank consisting of one 3,000 gallon compartment and one 5,000 gallon compartment, pressure tested and charted for the amount of $500.

Paschall Oil also will install the tank and air compressor with the county furnishing the necessary pipe, fittings, electrical materials, the excavation for the tank, and back fill work.

Mrs. John Pasco, chairman of the Murray - Calloway Library Board, appeared before the court and made the board's annual report. A final payment of $1,000 to the board for this fiscal year was approved.

A resolution is slated to be passed by the court today approving conveyance of certain school properties back to the school board. The property was deeded to the county in August of 1945 for the use of a $43,000 bond issue at 2 1/2 per cent interest.

Since that time the school board has paid the county an annual rental sufficient to pay the bonds and interest as they matured. Debt retirement has been made in full and the county is turning the property back over to the school board. This procedure is necessary since school boards can not sell a bond issue.

Tobacco Tour Is Reported On From Madrid; Now At Brussels

The second in a series of reports by Holmes Ellis, General Manager of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association is being published today.

Ellis and two other tobacco men left April 21st on a European tour to promote the continued and further use of dark fired tobacco, the type that is grown in Calloway County and also in European countries.

The first report made by Ellis, Mayor of the City of Murray, was written from Paris, France. His report today in the form of a letter to James C. Williams, Editor and publisher of the Ledger & Times, is sent from Madrid.

The delegation of tobacco officials will leave Rome this afternoon and arrive in Brussels at 7:00 p. m.

Mr. James Williams, Editor, Ledger & Times, MURRAY, Kentucky U.S.A.

Since my last letter mentioning increased sales of tobacco to Holland, we have visited France and Switzerland and are now in Spain. Generally speaking Europe is enjoying a very strong economy with economic growth of 4 to 9% annually compared to approximately 3% in the United States. There is no unemployment in Holland or Switzerland and workers are imported from Italy in substantial numbers and are paid the prevailing wages of the country concerned. There is much construction underway, apartments, office buildings, super highways, and municipal improvements are observed.

Though the standard of living is still substantially below that of the United States, the difference is much less than in 1956.

We visited the officials of the French Tobacco Monopoly in Paris where reports were less favorable than in Holland. However, the CITANES cigarette which carries from 5-8% Kentucky Dark Fired tobacco is selling well and the French government expects to continue purchases of dark fired tobacco in usual amounts. Incidentally the purchase, manufacturing and distribution of tobacco products is as much a government function in France, as is the operation of the Post-Office in the United States.

The principal use of our tobacco in Switzerland is for cigars. One, the general cigar, carrying only a small percentage of Kentucky and the Italian or straight Dark Fired cigar which is very strong. The active economy is helping maintain sales of both type cigars.

Last year we exported approximately 1,750,000 lbs. of tobacco to Switzerland. The tobacco industry is much like that of the United States as to commercial operation and distribution.

We are finding that South America is a real competitor for all types of tobacco. The quality and flavor of American tobacco keep us in the picture.

Sincerely yours,
Holmes Ellis

Experts Who Consigned Colts To Cellar Are Surprised Now

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Paul Richards, one of baseball's better brains, moaned last October that he was being offered a lot of humphries for organizing his Houston Colts, but these same derelicts are making him and manager Harry Craft look like a pair of geniuses.

There were many experts who took Richards at his word and consigned the Colts to the National cellar this season.

It's still early, of course, but the Colts have looked mighty respectable so far, and projecting their present 10-13 record through a 162-game schedule, they would wind up with 70 victories.

Bob Aspromonte, John Weekly and Bob Tiefenauer, three of the Colts' maligned minions, produced like champions Monday night as Houston defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-6, in the major leagues' only game.

Puts Colts Ahead
Aspromonte hit a three-run homer in the seventh inning to put the Colts ahead. Weekly connected in the eighth for an insurance run, and Tiefenauer pitched three shutout relief innings to receive credit for his first major league victory since 1955.

Aspromonte called his homer "the greatest thrill of my life." It had a special meaning because it was hit against the Dodgers, who had cast him adrift for one of the two new clubs to grab.

"This is the dream of every ballplayer, to get a hit like that against his old club," the 23-year-old third baseman beamed. "I never felt better in my life."

It's been a long time between major league victories for 32-year-old Tiefenauer. Although he first had a trial in the big show 10 years ago, that 1955 win was his only other triumph in the majors.

Four Runs Unearned
The Colts went ahead with five runs in the second inning, four of them unearned. The Dodgers committed two errors and their pitchers forced in two runs with walks.

Los Angeles moved ahead, 6-5, in the sixth with three runs, knocking out Colts' starter Dave Giusti and his successor, Al Cicotte.

Aspromonte then hit his homer off rookie lefty Pete Richert, who was charged with the defeat. Tiefenauer gave up only one hit during the last three innings. Aspromonte, who had been in a slump, now has collected nine hits in Houston's last three games.

College High, North Win

The opening rounds of the district baseball tournament at Murray yesterday saw North Marshall down rival South Marshall 7-6 and Murray College High drop Calloway County 7-3.

North broke on top 3-0 and picked up a single score in the fourth. South notched single runs in both the third and fourth innings and broke loose with a three run in the fifth to lead 5-4. The Rebels added another run in the sixth but it wasn't enough as North produced three runs of its own in the top of the seventh for the win.

Calloway picked up all three of its runs in the fourth inning. College High put across a single tally in the bottom of the fourth and then four big runs in the fifth. The Colts then added single marks in both the sixth and seventh innings.

Gold Panning Is Fun, Not Profitable

By MARY LU McDONALD
United Press International
PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Grab

a miner's pick and head for the West! There's still some golden glitter left in "them thar hills."

But James W. Crosby, mining geologist in the Washington State Institute of Technology here, warns you won't get rich. With luck, a beginner may earn only a few cents an hour.

"But when it comes to a thrill, there are few to match the discovery of some glittering gold at the bottom of a gold pan," Crosby said.

Rockhounds will need a 12, 14 or 16-inch pan, costing $1.50 to $2; a shovel and pick and assorted spoons. Especially handy is a long-handled "iced tea" spoon. A small magnet also can be very helpful.

The next problem is where to go to find the "riches."

The geologist said the best place to hunt gold, as it is for hunting pheasants, deer or other game, is to go where it has been found before — streams which have supported placer mining.

"But watch out for 'claim jumping,'" Crosby warned. "That still is taken seriously in some quarters."

He urged prospectors to work streams at low waters, to look for natural riffles where natural concentrates are found.

Some of the best panning streams in Washington State are found in Snohomish county, or the Blewett district which overlaps Chelan and Kittitas counties.

Look for the gold in crevices on the bottom of the stream rather than in gravel bars, Crosby said. Once the rockhound has picked the bedrock crevice, the panning procedure is fairly simple.

Use a shovel and a pick to get the sand from the crevices. Dump the sand into the gold pan and then throw out all the big rocks.

Crosby said the fingers should be used to break up the lumps of clay, then the pan is held flat just below the surface of the water.

"Keep moving the sand around until it is in a loose, semi-suspended state," he said, "and the gold will settle to the bottom since it is six to seven times as heavy as quartz and feldspar, minerals which predominate in river sands."

"Then bring up the pan, tilt it slightly and swish off the top layer of sand and water. Repeat until little remains but the heavy black concentrates."

The concentrates then should be placed in a bottle and, after the mixture has dried, use a magnet to remove the magnetic pyrite. Then the "fool's gold," or pyrite, must be removed from the mixture. Crosby said this is easy to spot because pyrite will shatter under the pressure of a knife-

Say "Cheese"

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

MAYBE you can't live on cheese alone, but any number of people would like to try. They're cheese lovers and they like cheese to nibble, sprinkle on soup, to slice for sandwiches, to serve with fruit. If it's cheese-y, they cherish it.

Loves Them All

The real cheese lover may have his favorite, may wax poetic when confronted with a round of yellow Switzerland Swiss, the famous cheese with the holes, but he's not narrow-minded. He loves almost all other cheeses, too.

He knows cheese is far more than a sandwich spread. It can also be an ingredient, one that adds fabulous flavoring to main dishes, as proved by the recipes given today.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

4 large peppers
1 lb. Switzerland Swiss cheese, grated
1 c. milk
2 eggs
1/2 tsp. curry powder
2 tsp. salt
4 tsp. bread crumbs
3 tsp. butter or margarine

Cut peppers in half lengthwise. Remove seeds. Parboil in salted boiling water for 8 to 10 min. Cool. Mix cheese with milk, eggs and seasonings. Fill peppers. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Dot with butter.

Bake in 350° F. oven for 15 to 20 min. Serves 4.

SALMON PASTA

1 (7 1/2-oz.) can salmon
1 lb. ricotta or cottage cheese
12 large pasta shells
3 qts. boiling water
1 tsp. salt
3 tsp. butter or margarine
3 tsp. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
Dash nutmeg

1 c. milk
1 c. cooked, drained spinach
1/2 c. grated Parmesan cheese

Drain and flake salmon. Add ricotta cheese and mix well.

Cook pasta shells in boiling salted water for 45 min. or until tender. Drain. Rinse with water to remove excess starch.

Melt butter; blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually; cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly.

Chop spinach. Add to milk mixture; blend thoroughly.

Four spinach sauce into well-greased shallow baking dish.

Fill pasta shells with salmon mixture and arrange in baking dish over spinach. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Bake in mod. oven, 350° F., for 30 min. Garnish with parsley. Serves 6.

PARMESAN CHEESE is sprinkled over pasta shells that are filled with tasty mixture of salmon and ricotta cheese.
